The investment and research company Edison published the latest valuation report of MetrioPharm AG, in February 2020. In this report, Edison values MetrioPharm AG at CHF 253 million (rNPV).

The valuation is based on a positive assessment of the market potential of the lead compound MP1032 in the indication psoriasis where MetrioPharm has completed a Phase II clinical trial in 2019. With a penetration of 10 %, the market potential of MP1032 in this indication is estimated at up to USD 2.8 billion.
